Re: Janel Richardson

I have been supervising Janel Richardson since she entered the credential program of the University of Laverne. She has completed the basic entry level course work where I observed her teach four different lesson plans. She has been observing in the classroom of Mr. Sam Modugno, who teaches Anatomy at Hart High School. She taught two lessons in muscle physiology, including a lab activity and two lessons in blood typing, which included a lab activity.

I found Janel to be highly conscientious, well organized, and extremely thorough in her lesson planning. After each lesson we met to discuss the lesson, it's successes and where improvement could be addressed. I found Janel very accepting, humble and receptive to both praise and suggestions. She is eager to become, not just a teacher but a good teacher. I predict that she will achieve her desired goal to be a good teacher.

Janel is a hard worker, comfortable in the role as a classroom teacher and works well with students and colleagues. In the limited teaching, and carrying out lesson plans, I observed, she was comfortable managing students and fulfilling other classroom responsibilities.
